OREGON AT EL PASO

BARREL OF BULL RUN
WATER TO BE ON TAP.

Forty-Pound Salmon, in Cold Storage, Will Be Exhibited at El Paso Irrigation Congress—Oregon Delegation Hopes to Bring the 1905 Meeting to Portland—Texans Won the 1904 Meeting With a Mexican Band.

Twelve monster Columbia river salmon, weighing 40 pounds each and frozen stiff, and a barrel of Bull Run water, will be two of the Oregon wonders taken by the Oregon delegation to the El Paso Irrigation congress, with which to entice the 1905 meeting of the National Irrigation Association to Portland.

Last year Texas brought a Mexican band, attired in native Mexican costume, to the Oregon congress, and with it won the 1904 meeting for El Paso. Had it not been for the persistent playing of the Mexican band, which instilled a constant enthusiasm into the Oregon congress, it would have been a prosaic affair and the meeting this year would very likely have been taken away from Texas.

The 50 members of the Texas delegation wore the great Mexican som-breros, and were conspicuous everywhere. They brought thousands of miniature hats for badges which they distributed lavishly, and with these combined Texan arts and Mexican music, won the meeting.

Oregon has not made arrangements for a brass band, but the Portland delegation will have a barrel of Bull Run water on tap at Oregon headquarters and in masses of solid ice, will be exhibited twelve monster salmon, the like of which was never seen in Texas, and with the aid of persistent distribution of Lewis and Clark literature, the delegation hopes to land the next meeting.

Six months ago, the East Oregonian suggested that the Oregon delegation order several thousand miniature umbrellas, properly inscribed with Oregon history and Lewis and Clark fair advertisements, to be distributed at the convention as souvenirs, but the suggestion was not acted upon.

Dr. Lloyd Returns From Ukiah. Dr. T. J. Lloyd, the veterinarian, returned last evening from Ukiah, where he speyed a large number of cows for Jacob Born, W. M. Platters, George Linsner, Robert Moore and J. B. E. Coombs. Cattle in that district are in excellent condition.

Ants are the most brainy of all creatures. In proportion to its size, an ant's brain is larger than that of any other living being.

Roy Salisbury About Cured. Roy Salisbury, of Upper Butter creek, who has been suffering with a severe case of St. Vitus dance, will return home in a few days completely cured. The boy has been taking treatment under Thomas Nye, the hypnotist, in this city for the past few weeks and has almost entirely recovered from the effects of the disease. Mr. Nye has cured by the simple means of suggestion, or mind control, and by causing him to concentrate his thoughts and by that means control his movements. The boy was almost totally helpless when he began taking treatment, being scarcely able to walk or speak.
